ZUMA

Zuma is produced using once fired technology, reducing the impact of the manufacture on our environment. A fully vitrified body and rolled edges, produces a strong durable and chip resistant masterpiece.

In a range of exciting reactive colours featuring variance in colour and glaze, every piece appears to be hand thrown making each piece have its unique DNA, which enables a creative canvas for any chef.

All colours can be introduced to existing tabletop, creating a harmonious blend of accent pieces. Introducing warmth with an innovative style, engaging but different, a natural choice for your tableware.

HOW TO CARE FOR THE COOKWARE

A word of warning

As with all clay, pieces are susceptible to thermal shock. Accordingly, please observe the following points.

If taking 'La Tapa' from fridge, please let stand until it reaches room temperature before exposing to any form of heat.

'La Tapa' should be placed in cold oven allowing both vessel and oven to reach its required temperature at the same time. Once removed from oven, place vessel on trivet or silicon mat - thus avoiding direct contact with cool surface.

Hand Wash Only

After use, fill the pot with warm soapy water. Make sure to avoid overly "fragrant" detergents as perfumes can taint the clay. If heavily soiled, soak in mild detergent, if required, use Teflon scrubber. Don't use metal or highly abrasive scouring pads or powders. The use of the dishwasher is not recommended.

Colour Changes

Due to the natural (not chemical) glaze, your pot may change colour with use. This is normal and is considered part of the natural character of these handmade pots.

HOW TO CURE YOUR 'LA TAPA' POT

Fill three-quarters of uncovered vessel with warm water, place in cool oven until reaching 200°C for 30 minutes. This process will assist with curing your cookware. As with all clay cookware, regular use will fully season your vessel. If you find your piece is still porous, bring FULL CREAM milk to the boil... then allow to stand for several minutes.

ORIGINS

In the Magdalena River, central Colombia, the people from a village called La Chamba continue to carry on an artisanal tradition that spans over 700 years. Using the mineral-rich clay from the area, these people make 'La Tapa' cookware - used and loved by Colombians, gourmet cooks and celebrity chefs around the globe.

Each piece is hand shaped and moulded. Elegant, contemporary, easy to use, 'La Tapa' is Colombia's gift to the world's most demanding cooks. These artisan pieces can be used (after curing... see instructions overleaf) on gas stove top, in the oven and microwave. If using 'La Tapa' on an electric stove top, a heat diffuser is recommended. Items within this range include griddle pans, roasters, baking dishes, fully complemented with small unique tapas bowls.

From oven to table 'La Tapa' introduces highly functional pieces of 'Art' ... suitable for those who embrace and appreciate the merits of cooking and presenting in organic, hand crafted vessels.

TOXIN-FREE – 100% ORGANIC FROM MOTHER NATURE

This cookware is produced free of toxins, without chemical glazes and lead clay. The burnished black hue comes from painstaking hand polishing using river rocks. This is truly eco-friendly cookware - a contemporary piece of art from earth to table. 'La Tapa' is Cookware made over a period of 700 years, handed down from generation to generation / Mother to Daughter – Father to Son!
